

Jens S. Transmissioner strengthens its position in Denmark by the acquisition of KALTECH Gearservice

Jens S. Group, part of Axel Johnson International's business group Power Transmission Solutions, has through its subsidiary Jens S. Transmissioner A/S acquired KALTECH Gearservice ApS, effective 1 October 2019. By the addition of KALTECH, Jens S. Group strengthens its position in the Danish market by adding complementary technical solutions, including high value-add repair and maintenance services and technical expertise, to its current offering.

Founded in 1998, KALTECH Gearservice ApS is a Danish provider of high value-add repair and maintenance services of gearboxes, couplings, breaks and cardan shafts used in various industrial settings. KALTECH's offering includes both onsite systematic maintenance and repair services along with inhouse heavy duty milling and turning machinery capacity to meet its customers' specific needs and will complement Jens S. extensive product offering in transmission solutions.

KALTECH Gearservice will continue to operate under its current brand name, functioning as a separate operating unit under Jens S. Transmissioner A/S and will be part of Jens S. Group. KALTECH's current owner and CEO, Knud Lund, will stay in the company and continue develop the offering together with Jens S. Group

"The addition of KALTECH to Jens S. Transmissioner in Denmark is strategically a very good complement to the entire Jens S. Group, with its highly skilled workforce and comprehensive repair and maintenance service offering. It also fits well into our strategy in becoming a more holistic provide of technical solutions", says Johan Benzler, Managing Director, Jens S. Group.

The acquisition strengthens Jens S. Group, reaching a turnover of 0,5 billion SEK, expanding the group to 7 companies and 145 employees.
